Fred Hutch Allied Professionals

Many people are unaware of tax-exempt planning strategies that help them leave a charitable legacy, reduce taxes and maximize benefits from their assets. By educating people on the benefits of charitable planning, Fred Hutchinson Cancer Center's Allied Professionals hope to inspire a new community of philanthropists who can address their needs for financial security and family legacy while investing in programs that advance our goals of eliminating cancer and other related diseases.

Fred Hutch Allied Professionals are estate, tax, and financial planning professionals who share Fred Hutch's commitment to the elimination of cancer and related diseases as causes of human suffering and death.
